HOW HE PROPO.

I took her liv'le hand in mine,
It quivers his a bird.
And as I fee its touch divine
A trembling sigh I heard.
Momentous time! Should I propose,
I know not what he say;
As I beheld my idealing Rose
I felt my hair turn gray.

My heart was beating like a fluit,
And yet my lips were dumb;
The clock that hung upon a nail
Ticked louder than a druim.
I could not see, for strange to tell:
The air seemed full of smoke.
Then from my tongue the fetters fell,
And then—and then I spoke.

"I love you. dear!" I said in haste;
"I love you. too," she said;
And then I clasped her dainty waist
And kissed her lips of red.
Thou came a flood of poetry,
I spouted yards of rhyme,
And she is going to marry me
In apple-blosson, time.
